ON THE COVER

This issue is dedicated to Dr. David L. Potter who began his tenure as the sixth president of Delta State University on July 1, 1999.

Can I Get Your Autograph?

DSU's top 1999 graduate Mandy Lee gets an autograph from U.S. Senator Trent Lott and Dr. Wyatt signs the program of Courtney Caldwell prior to the May Commencement.

Editor's Notes

Just when we thought 1998 had been an active year for all of us, along came 1999 and we faced the bittersweet task of retiring one president and the exciting challenge of naming a new one. Well, guess what? I think we all did a pretty good job of both. While Dr. and Mrs. Wyatt exited among multiple tributes for their 24 years of love and leadership for our university, Dr. David Potter and his wife, Pam, accepted the challenging reins of president and first lady with an enthusiastic endorsement from the DSU family.

In the midst of all the presidential activity, our office staff found time to celebrate three weddings, a graduation and the birth of a beautiful baby girl. I'll let you inquire as to who was involved in what. A few other thoughts follow:

- A special thanks to Marynell Jacob ('71) of Atlanta for sending the article about Keith Sandow and his volunteer efforts in Ecuador.
- Jeanette Hubbard Quay ('76) wrote to say that she enjoys the Delta Currents and "applaud the strides made in the last few years to make it a first class publication." Volunteering to help promote DSU in the Dallas area, she stated, "the education I received was first rate, and to this day, the hardest I ever worked was in Dr. Butler's Shakespeare course."
- The New Orleans area lost a special citizen in February when Mary Meek Morrison ('33) passed away at her Vieux Carre home. Since her arrival in 1939, she was a "driving force" in efforts to maintain the French Quarter's historic character and charm.
- Brad Prewitt ('90) and Bill LaForge ('72) stepped forward to help organize an impressive dinner tribute in Washington where Senators Cochran and Lott toasted Dr. Wyatt for his contributions to higher education over the past quarter century.
- Enjoyed a great evening at the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame induction ceremonies in Knoxville with Lucia Harris Stewart ('77) and Coach Margaret Wade ('33) being recognized.
- Guy Ann Gasperini Scheffield, in addition to working with the Orlando, Fla. police department, also works at the Orlando Arena and with the NBA Orlando Magic. She has been recognized on several occasions for her volunteer efforts.
- Tim Harvey ('80) is among the new executive management team for the Memphis-based Promus Hotel Corporation, being named executive vice president and chief information officer.
- I have had numerous calls from former athletes and supporters expressing optimism about the 1999 football team under the leadership of first year head coach Steve Campbell and his staff.
- Our Delta Travelers group had an opportunity to attend the "A Painter's Painter ..." exhibit at the Lauren Rogers Museum of Art in Laurel where George Bassi ('87) is the executive director. The exhibit definitely had a "DSU touch" as Sammy Britt, longtime DSU faculty member and former students Gerald Deloach ('71), Richard Kelso ('70), and George T. Thurman ('72) were among the featured artists.

In closing, let me congratulate and commend the 12 employees who retired this past year from Delta State University. THANK YOU!

Thornton Honored At Retirement Celebration

Information and most of the narrative for this article was provided by Merita Green Koll ('90) of Ruleville, MS.

Tammy Lee Parkes and Dr. Thornton share a moment at his retirement celebration.

Dr. Larry Lee Thornton, retired senior professor of Psychology, was honored at a retirement celebration dinner on May 15 by family, special friends, and those former students designated as "Students for All Seasons."

Serving as master of ceremonies, Gary Walker ('72) of Tampa, FL, introduced former students who reflected upon college experiences under Thornton from the years 1968 to 1999.

Representing the 1960's, Walter Patterson ('66) of Yazoo City recalled Thornton's academic demands for "profound thought and scholarly manner." He pointed to the ability that Thornton possessed in motivating students to explore and define their beliefs and then to "put those thoughts into writing." In closing, Patterson referred to a number of students impacted by Thornton, stating, "Most of his students have gone on to be highly successful citizens, and I can't help but believe that Larry Thornton deserves some credit for this."

Reflections from the 1970's were given by Mario Ortiz ('72), currently a teacher from Greenwood Springs. He remembered Thornton as being a professor acutely aware of his students' inner needs. Being an older, married student, Ortiz sometimes felt lost and out of place to the point of giving up. He remembered Thornton approaching him after class one day and inviting him to his house for a Swiss fondue party. Acknowledging that he didn't know why a professor would invite him to his house but afraid not to accept Thornton's invitation, Ortiz and his wife attended and enjoyed an evening in the Thornton home. He said he learned two things that night; he learned what fondue was and he learned that his professor cared about him and his future.

As the voice of the 1980's, Tammy Lee Parkes ('88) of Louisville read from a composition which she had written just for the retirement occasion. As an introduction to her presentation, she stated, "Tonight as I look around this room, I see those of whom Larry Lee Thornton has served through the last four decades of his life. He has taught us the significance of keeping in touch with those you love and the importance of letting those you love know that you love them. This is evident in those of us here tonight." She remembered Thornton as being a teacher that personified the characteristics of love and one who stressed the importance of teachers knowing their students by name. Following her comments, Parkes presented Thornton the composition as a gift and added, "Dr. Thornton, never underestimate the impact that you have had on my life and on the lives of each of us here tonight."

Justin "Fish" Robinson of Cleveland, elected to serve as Delta State's SGA president for the 1999-2000 school year, represented the 1990's. He thanked Thornton for helping him to preserve his faith in God and for reinforcing his belief in himself. He acknowledged that he, like so many others, felt free to talk with Thornton about any problem.

Following the accolades of other program participants which included Arthur Johnston, III of Madison, Dr. Kenneth Urial Gutsch of Hattiesburg, Dr. Ross Story of Cleveland, Dr. Eduardo Marcello of Clinton, and his son, Matthew Alan Thornton, the honoree took the stand. In a beginning statement which summarized his philosophy toward life and teaching, Thornton referred to a quote from Emerson: "What lies before us and what lies behind us are small matters compared to what lies within us." He added that he had tried to teach his students not to dwell too much in the past nor to dwell too much on dreams of the future but to focus more on what lies within.

In his 31 years at Delta State, Thornton has taught over 10,000 students. "I can remember by name over 4,000 of these students and have had some form of contact with over 2,000 of them through meetings, phone calls, and mailings...little did I know the impact these students would make upon my life...I learned from my students that the key to human understanding is recognizing that the heart of the matter is the HEART."

Watson Named Dean Of Student Development

Steve Hughes Watson was named Dean of Student Development at Delta State University effective July 1, 1999. A licensed professional counselor, he comes to DSU from Jackson where he was director of Outpatient and Alternative Services for Charter Behavioral Health Systems of Mississippi and had a private practice, Life Change Counseling Center. From 1990 to 1994 Watson served as Assistant Dean of Students at Millsaps College and an adjunct faculty member with the Department of Psychology and Counseling at Mississippi College.

Steve Watson

A 1986 graduate of Mississippi College, Watson holds a Master of Professional Counseling from Mississippi College and is a candidate for the Doctor of Philosophy in Counselor Education/Educational Psychology from Mississippi State University.

DSU Professor Awarded Grant

Dorothy Sample Shawhan, a noted author and publisher, has been awarded a $5,000 Literary Arts grant from the Mississippi Arts Commission. The grant is to be used to complete work on a biography of the late Judge Lucy Somerville Howorth on which Shawhan and Martha Swain of Starkville are collaborating.

"A major focus of my writing has always been women's lives, both historical and fictional," Shawhan said. "When I returned to Mississippi in 1981, I began research into the lives of Mississippi women, particularly those of 'Judge Lucy' Somerville Howorth and her network."

Shawhan added, "I was fortunate to become acquainted with Mrs. Howorth through the American Association of University Women (AAUW) and to begin visits and interviews with her that lasted until her death in 1997."

Named 1997 Woman of Achievement by the Mississippi Division of the AAUW, Shawhan serves as chair of the Languages and Literature Division at Delta State University.

Board Approves Move To "Colleges" From "Schools"

Dr. Frank McArthur, Vice President for Academic Affairs, has announced that the Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning has approved Delta State's request to change the name of three of its four schools to "colleges." Effective immediately the Schools of Arts and Sciences, Business and Education are now the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Business and the College of Education.

"The move provides for a clearer distinction of the type of academic programs we have at Delta State. Colleges usually have several disciplines within their particular area," McArthur said.

Delta State's Art, Music, Mathematics, Biological Sciences, Physical Sciences, Audiology and Speech Pathology, Aerospace Studies, History, Languages and Literature, Social Sciences and Social Work programs now comprise the College of Arts and Sciences.

The College of Business contains the Departments of Accounting, Commercial Aviation, Computer Information Systems and Office Administration, Divisions of Economics and Finance, and Management and Marketing.

The College of Education includes the Divisions of Behavioral Sciences, Curriculum, Instruction, Leadership and Research, Family and Consumer Sciences, Health, Physical Education and Recreation, the Department of Psychology, and the Office of Field Experiences.

The School of Nursing will retain its title of "school."

Gore, Governor Jim Hunt and three North Carolina Congressmen.

For more than three decades, Hyde has been recognized for her work with various civic, academic and charitable organizations. Prior to her appointment as Ambassador, she was a well-known fund-raiser on behalf of children, the arts, and academic institutions. She has been named Distinguished Woman of the Year by the State of North Carolina, awarded the Public Service Award by the YWCA, named Distinguished Alumnus, 1995, by Wake Forest University, and 1998 Citizen of the World by the International Visitors Council.

Ambassador Hyde was appointed by President Clinton in 1994 to serve as the U.S. Ambassador to Barbados and several countries in the Eastern Caribbean. She returned to the United States and DSU campus in 1995 to deliver the commencement address for Delta State's graduation ceremony.

During her four years as Ambassador she addressed drug smuggling, money laundering and trade issues affecting American companies such as Bacardi and Chiquita. She was instrumental in lining up support for U.S. military intervention in Haiti and spent three years negotiating treaties that would allow U.S. Coast Guard vessels to enter the territorial waters of Caribbean countries in pursuit of drug dealers.

Retiring as Ambassador in 1998, Hyde remains active in the civic and political arena. She is the chair of the U.S. State Department initiative involving the Organization of American States (OAS) - 33 elected governments of the Western Hemisphere - dealing with the issue of promoting entrepreneurship among young people and she is a board member for the North Carolina Bid Committee seeking to secure the 2007 Pan American Games.

Mrs. Hyde currently resides in Raleigh, North Carolina with her husband, semi-retired insurance executive Wallace Hyde.

1999 OUTSTANDING ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR

Ambassador Jeanette W. Hyde

Jeanette W. Hyde

Ambassador Jeanette W. Hyde of Raleigh, North Carolina is the University's Outstanding Alumnus of 1999, and she will be honored at homecoming festivities on the Delta State campus on October 9th.

Born in Hamptonville, North Carolina, Hyde attended Wake Forest University before attending and earning a B.S. degree in English from Delta State in 1962. Following graduation she lived on the island of Crete, Greece, where she taught school while studying Greek at the University of Maryland, Crete.

Upon returning to the United States, Ambassador Hyde settled in Fayetteville, North Carolina, where she began working as a social worker with juvenile delinquent, neglect and abuse cases. Following this work experience she returned to graduate school for studies in counseling at the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State University. She worked with the North Carolina Administration of the Courts as a family counselor before entering business for herself.

In the early 1970's, Hyde opened and operated retail business establishments and entered into business ventures, including the national restaurant chains of the Golden Corral Corporation. In 1987 she joined with business associates to found a community bank, Triangle Bank & Trust of Raleigh.

Coming from a politically active family, Ambassador Hyde has spent most of her life actively involved in Democratic state and national politics and played a major role in campaigns of President Clinton, Vice President

Gore, Governor Jim Hunt and three North Carolina Congressmen.

For more than three decades, Hyde has been recognized for her work with various civic, academic and charitable organizations. Prior to her appointment as Ambassador, she was a well-known fund-raiser on behalf of children, the arts, and academic institutions. She has been named Distinguished Woman of the Year by the State of North Carolina, awarded the Public Service Award by the YWCA, named Distinguished Alumnus, 1995, by Wake Forest University, and 1998 Citizen of the World by the International Visitors Council.

Ambassador Hyde was appointed by President Clinton in 1994 to serve as the U.S. Ambassador to Barbados and several countries in the Eastern Caribbean. She returned to the United States and DSU campus in 1995 to deliver the commencement address for Delta State's graduation ceremony.

During her four years as Ambassador she addressed drug smuggling, money laundering and trade issues affecting American companies such as Bacardi and Chiquita. She was instrumental in lining up support for U.S. military intervention in Haiti and spent three years negotiating treaties that would allow U.S. Coast Guard vessels to enter the territorial waters of Caribbean countries in pursuit of drug dealers.

Retiring as Ambassador in 1998, Hyde remains active in the civic and political arena. She is the chair of the U.S. State Department initiative involving the Organization of American States (OAS) - 33 elected governments of the Western Hemisphere - dealing with the issue of promoting entrepreneurship among young people and she is a board member for the North Carolina Bid Committee seeking to secure the 2007 Pan American Games.

Mrs. Hyde currently resides in Raleigh, North Carolina with her husband, semi-retired insurance executive Wallace Hyde.

1999 Alumni Service Awards Recipients

Mickey Robinson

Jon Levingston

Darnell Scott

Dr. Jim Avery, president of the DSU Alumni Association, has announced that the following are to be recognized with service awards at the Association's Homecoming Luncheon on Oct. 9 on the Delta State campus.

Selected as the recipient for the Hugh Ellis Walker Service Award, presented annually to an alumnus, is Mickey Robinson ('85) of Cleveland. Mickey, owner of Robinson Furniture, is the past president of the DSU National Alumni Association.

Jon Levingston of Clarksdale has been named to receive the Gladys Castle "Friend of Delta State" Service Award, presented annually to a non-alumnus. Jon Levingston, owner of Levingston Furniture Co. in Clarksdale and Cleveland, is serving his second term as a member of the DSU Foundation Board of Directors.

The recipient of the Kent Wyatt Young Alumnus Service Award is Darnell Scott ('85) of Tupelo. Darnell, an Allstate agent in Tupelo, is a former member of the DSU Alumni Association Board of Directors.

WWII Veteran Still "Serving"

A special thanks to Marianna Riley of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for use of excerpts from an earlier article.

Doris Latta

Doris J. Sisson Latta ('40) enlisted in the Navy in 1942 and retired a major in the Army two decades later. Today she is the commander of the St. Louis Service Women's Post 404 of the American Legion and she is looking forward to its 12th annual tribute to women on Nov. 22.

"Women in the military have always volunteered, and our post is the only women's post in the state (Missouri), one of the few in the country; it was chartered in 1945," she said.

In 1945, Latta was still in Hawaii, after extending her original tour there several times, often to take promotions. She spent much of World War II in Hawaii where military personnel, especially women, were needed to help process the many service personnel returning from the South Pacific.

Latta remembers, as a very young girl in Indianola, MS, how she wished she was a boy so she could grow up and join the Navy. She also remembers that when she read that the Navy was taking women, she hurried to the nearest recruiting center. When first turned down by the local recruiter, she returned to her position of teaching english, business courses and physical education. But soon she would try again, this time traveling the 400-plus miles to New Orleans. She was called to active duty on Oct. 3, 1942. "It was the best time of my life," she recalls.

In 1952, to take advantage of a promotion being offered by the Army, Latta switched from the WAVES to the WACS (Women's Army Corps). Immediately, she went from the rank of chief petty officer to first lieutenant, serving as commanding officer of a company in Fort Lee, VA, then on to duty in France and Germany.

Following her military career, she moved to St. Louis where she began a second career teaching and eventually counseling in community colleges. She would retire from a counseling career in 1988 but continues with her many activities, including veteran's association (WAVES & WACS) activities and her American Legion Post. In recognition of her volunteer efforts she was recently named "Legionnaire of the Year" for the St. Louis area.

To a true veteran we offer a salute and congratulations on a job well done!

Barefoot Named Outstanding Nursing Alumnus

William Chadwick (Chad) Barefoot, a 1994 graduate and former SGA member at Delta State, has been named the Outstanding Nursing Alumnus for 1999. Following graduation from DSU, he received a MSN from the University of Pennsylvania as an Adult Critical Care Nurse Practitioner in 1998. He also received a Management Specialty degree from the Wharton School Business School.

Achieving board certification as an Acute Care Nurse Practitioner, Barefoot has been a clinical skills lab instructor and a guest lecturer for the Adult Tertiary Nurse Practitioner Program at the University of Pennsylvania. He is currently employed with Abington Pulmonary and Critical Care Associates, Ltd. in Philadelphia, Pa.

Taylor To Head SBDC

Robert A. Taylor, Jr. has been named director of the DSU Small Business Development Center. A 1981 graduate of Northwest Community College, he received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree with a major in Marketing from Delta State in 1983.

Robert Taylor

Taylor comes to Delta State following a business career which has included professional responsibilities in management, marketing, and instruction on the Personal Financial Planning process as well as providing consultant services for Industrial and Small Business Training. From 1985 to 1998 he served as administrative vice president of Taylor's Air Conditioning and Heating, Inc., a family-owned business in Cleveland, MS.

Cole Joins Tax Group

Louis P. Cole, a specialist in the area of multi-state taxation, has joined the Atlanta office of Deloitte & Touche as a partner in the national Creative Tax Services Group. This group provides proactive strategies which help companies reduce costs and enhance profitability.

Louis P. Cole

Cole, a Certified Public Accountant, is responsible for developing and implementing strategic multistate tax planning for a wide range of industries. He transferred to Atlanta from the firm's Nashville office where he had been appointed to the position of partner in 1998.

A native of Clarksdale, Cole received his Bachelor of Arts degree in accounting from Delta State in 1986.

Virginia Terry White Retires

Two individuals who impacted the Delta region since their days together at Delta State have retired within four months of each other. Dr. Kent Wyatt retired on June 31, 1999, after serving for twenty-four years as the president of Delta State University. His classmate, Virginia Terry White retired on March 31, 1999, from Staplcoth in Greenwood after twenty-three years of service. Staplcoth is the oldest cotton cooperative in the United States.

Virginia Terry White

Virginia quickly moved up the corporate ladder at Staplcoth and in 1984 she was named Vice-President, Communications. Her publication, StaplReview, has earned awards from the Mississippi Delta Advertising Federation.

Virginia's involvement in the cotton industry has led her to serve on the committees of the National, Mississippi and Louisiana Councils of Farmer Cooperatives. She has served on the Executive Board of Delta Council and is past president of the Delta Cotton Wives, an organization that encourages the wearing of cotton fabric. She is past-president of the Greenwood-Lefflore Chamber of Commerce and has been active on the board of directors of Beacon Harbor, a group home for the physically and mentally handicapped. Virginia was selected in 1998 by Eckerd Drugs as one of one hundred women to be commended for her volunteerism.

Prior to joining Staplcoth, Virginia worked as a schoolteacher in the Greenwood public schools for five years and with Delta Electric Power Association for nine years.

DSU Grad Heads Exxon Research

Ronald Chance

Dr. Ronald R. Chance ('70) of Annandale, N.J. is Senior Staff Advisor, Corporate Research, for the Exxon Corporation. Chance, who grew up in Crenshaw, MS and married Judy Smith of Coldwater, has been with Exxon since 1986 when he accepted the position of director of the Polymers and Fluids Laboratory. He and his staff of 60 worked on physics and chemistry of polymers, surfactant, and complex fluids. In 1989 he became division manager of Paramins Technology, heading a group of 130 scientists working on polymer additives for lubricants and fuels. His current position, which he assumed in 1996, is in Corporate Research where he is science advisor for major patent litigation and directs a group of 20 scientists in membrane science. He has authored 150 technical papers and has given more than 80 invited lectures on polymer science.

Dr. Chance holds 15 U.S. patents and sits on advisory boards for science and engineering departments at Purdue University, MIT, and the University of Southern Mississippi. In 1998, he was elected as a Fellow in the American Physical Society, an honor given to only a few American scientists. Preparation for his career began at Northwest Mississippi Community College where Chance received his A.S. in chemistry in 1968. He then earned his B.S. in chemistry from Delta State in 1970 and his Ph.D. in physical chemistry from Dartmouth College in 1974.

$10.1 Million And Counting

At a press conference held on June 29, 1999, Ned Mitchell, president of the DSU Foundation, announced that The Campaign for Delta State had raised a total of $10,113,331.24 in gifts and pledges. "I am happy to report that this total more than doubles the original Campaign goal of $5 million and also surpasses our challenge goal of $10 million," said Mitchell.

Responding to the announcement Dr. Kent Wyatt stated, "This is an exciting day for everyone associated with Delta State University. To have doubled our five-year goal six months before the closing date of the Campaign is truly remarkable. This accomplishment gives me great faith and confidence in the future of Delta State and exhibits the love and loyalty our supporters have for the University."

Dr. Don Skelton, executive director of Alumni and Foundation spoke to the commitment of the leadership for the Campaign and thanked all who had participated in "making this accomplishment possible." He added that each gift, no matter the size, has a tremendous impact upon the life of the University, its faculty and its students.

In closing Mitchell stated, "As the University enters the final months of The Campaign for Delta State, we challenge all alumni and friends of the University to consider participating as we continue to 'raise the bar' for private support."

Entergy Mississippi Continues Its Support Of Faculty Development

Entergy has been an active supporter of Delta State University since their first gift in 1964. In 1997 the company made a $100,000 pledge to The Kent & Janice Wyatt Faculty Development Fund, which supports professional growth opportunities for DSU faculty.

Professors utilize The Kent & Janice Wyatt Faculty Development Fund to access the latest skills, knowledge and technologies appropriate to their discipline by attending seminars and workshops and bringing top scholars to the campus.

Thanks in part to the Entergy grant, faculty development funds have increased 133% over the past four years.

The Kent & Janice Wyatt Faculty Development Fund, named in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Wyatt, is administered by a committee, chaired by Dr. John Thornell, Dean of Graduate Studies and Continuing Education, and having faculty representation from each of the colleges and schools. The committee has the responsibility to review all proposals and evaluate them based on established criteria which requires a direct link to improvement of classroom instruction and benefit to Delta State students.

The Richardson Family Establishes Science Teaching Award

Dr. Travis Richardson, his wife, Loree, daughters, Dr. Brenda Richardson Safley and Cynthia Ann Richardson Eads, and son, Dr. Daniel Q. Richardson, have established The Richardson Family Award for Excellence in Science Teaching with an initial gift of $130,000. The award is established in honor of all former faculty members who have been instrumental in the lives of the Richardson family and is to recognize an outstanding science faculty member or members annually. Travis, a family practice doctor in Drew, and Loree are 1956 graduates of Delta State, Brenda, an anesthesiologist in Gulfport, is a 1973 graduate, and Daniel, a 1981 graduate, is a plastic surgeon in Gulfport. Cynthia, a 1998 graduate, is a nurse practitioner in Grenada.

Dr. and Mrs. Richardson (right) were recently hosted at a luncheon in their honor by President Emeritus Kent Wyatt and wife, Janice. The Wyatts and Richardsons were classmates at Delta State. The 1999-2000 recipients of the inaugural award are Dr. Henry Outlaw, Dr. Wayne Walley and Dr. Milton Bradley.

Vera E. Smith & Gladys Smith Gilmore Establish Memorial Scholarship

Dr. David Potter is shown with Gladys Smith Gilmore (left) and Vera E. Smith (right) at the Jackson Area Alumni meeting in July.

Vera E. Smith, Class of 1945, and Gladys Smith Gilmore, Class of 1942, have established a scholarship in the School of Education in memory of their parents, Hugh Cam and Mattie Reeves Smith, Sr., formerly of Shaw.

The $20,000 endowed scholarship will benefit a needy and deserving student majoring in education.

The scholarship memorializes their parents whose goal was to get all four of their children through college. This goal was realized as all four of their children graduated from Delta State.

Hugh Cam Smith, Sr. died unexpectedly at the age of 47 in 1946. He lived to see three of his children graduate from Delta State -- Hugh C. Smith, Jr., Class of 1942, (deceased), Gladys Smith Gilmore, Class of 1942, and Vera E. Smith, Class of 1945. The youngest son, W.R. "Billy" Smith, graduated in 1948 after returning from WWII. Mattie Reeves Smith died in 1979.

Contributions to this scholarship or to other existing scholarships may be mailed to P.O. Box 3141, DSU, Cleveland, MS 38733. To establish a scholarship, please contact the Delta State University Development Office at (662) 846-4708.

William F. Buckley, Jr. To Speak At DSU October 28th

The Livingston Distinguished Speakers Series hosts the inaugural address on October 28, 1999, with noted conservative William F. Buckley, Jr. Mr. Buckley will speak in the Bologna Performing Arts Center's Delta and Pine Land Theater.

Buckley is considered one of the most recognized and articulate voices for American conservatives. He is the author of God and Man at Yale, and Nearer My God: Autobiography of Faith, founder of The National Review, and host of the Emmy award-winning show "Firing Line."

Established by Jon and Bruce Livingston and named in honor of their family's longtime commitment to Delta State, the series will bring a leading public figure to the campus each year to speak and interact with the University and Delta communities.

For more information on tickets, call 1-800-468-6378, ext. 6.

A New Era

David L. Potter, President Delta State University

On July 1, 1999 Dr. David L. Potter began his tenure as the sixth president of Delta State University. Potter previously served as provost and executive vice president for Academic Affairs at George Mason University in Fairfax, Virginia.

"I am honored to be at Delta State and having been given this opportunity," said Potter. "Delta State has a beautiful campus and there is a spirit of friendliness and community that is very attractive and one which we look forward to being a part of.

All together, I know that we can make this institution even greater than it is today, and make it a national landmark for higher education. That's what our goal is." ketball and remains a fan of athletics today. Upon his arrival in Cleveland, one of the first people Potter sought out was former DSU coach and Boston Red Sox pitcher Dave "Boo" Ferriss. "We had a great visit talking about baseball and the great student-athletes and teams we have had," said Ferriss. "I feel he will be a great representative for Delta State."

In many ways Potter feels he is coming home. His wife, Pam Mathews, was born in Hattiesburg and grew up in Vicksburg and Jackson. Her 91-year mother still lives in Jackson. The Potters have two daughters, Holly, who has just graduated from Colorado College and Elizabeth, who graduated from law school at UCLA and is an associate with a large law firm in Los Angeles.

Since his arrival Potter has wasted little time in getting acquainted with the DSU family and supporters and promoting the university as a major player in helping guide the Delta's economy for the future. "A major challenge is to build the work force," said Potter. "We must strengthen K-12 through higher education."

Among the DSU students who are convinced that the State College Board made an excellent selection is SGA Vice President Paul "Bubba" Mancini. "Dr. Potter has already exhibited an open-door policy and will do everything he can for the university," said Mancini.

"This is an exciting opportunity for higher education, to imagine how we can prepare students to live and work and be effective citizens in a knowledge-based and global economy," says Potter. "I think this is what we should be about—and this in effect is the national challenge for all of us."

An overflow crowd of alumni, students and friends turn out to welcome Dr. Potter to the DSU "family."

Dr. Kent Wyatt, who retired after 24 years as DSU's president, said that Potter "is a perfect fit" for Delta State. "He and his wife, Pam, bring a working team to Delta State, and that's what our faculty, staff and students were looking for. I am very pleased."

Dr. Potter holds the Ph.D. and M.A. degrees from The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University, and the B.A. (cum laude) in History from Amherst College. Prior to being named as provost of George Mason, he served the university as Vice President and Dean for the College of Arts and Sciences (1991-1996), Interim Dean (1991-92), and Vice President for Executive Affairs (1987-1991).

Raised in a working class suburb of Wilmington, Delaware, Potter had the good fortune of attending an affluent high school which prepared him for college. In addition to his academic pursuits, he participated in football and bas-

Sports Update

Statesmen Ready For GSC Title Defense

By Fred Singleton, DSU Sports Information Director

Delta State University enters its first season under head coach Steve Campbell with 12 (5 offense, 6 defense, 1 specialty) starters and 35 lettermen returning from last year's Gulf South Conference championship team. The Statesmen finished 1998 with an 8-3 overall record and an 8-1 GSC mark. The conference title and the NCAA playoff appearance were the first in school history.

On offense Josh Bright (6-4, 215, Soph.) emerged from the spring as the top quarterback in Campbell's option offensive attack with Jeff Smith (6-3, 196, Sr.) listed as the backup. Sharing the running back duties are last year's leading rusher Casey Macke (5-9, 170, Jr.), Treg Thomas (5-7, 196, Sr.) who is returning from a knee injury, Hunter Caston (5-11, 185, Sr.) and Rico McDonald (5-7, 203, Soph.). Starting receivers Willie Ducksworth (6-0, 185, Sr.) and Houston Cunningham (5-10, 170, Sr.) solidified their roles in the spring with James Grubbs (6-4, 190, Fr.) listed as the backup. The question mark for the Statesmen offense is up front where no returning starters return. Tackles Roth Hershisier (6-5, 260, Sr.) and Reed Stringer (6-5, 250, Soph.), guards Andy Horton (6-3, 275, Jr.) and Chris Booker (6-2, 281, Fr.) and center Randy Grierson (5-11, 259, Soph.) came out of the spring as the projected starters.

Defensive linemen Joey Duplan (6-6, 265, Jr.) and Jatón Jackson (6-3, 280, Jr.) return up front with Gene Barnes (6-2, 255, Jr.) and Derrick Truitt (5-10, 284, Fr.) projected as the starters coming out of spring. Pre-season All-Conference Candidate Keith Boone (6-3, 220, Sr.) and Andre Brown (6-1, 200, Soph.) anchor the linebacker position with Kareem Vance (6-1, 210, Sr.), Ricky Franklin (6-1, 215, Sr.), Johnny Mickell (6-1, 187, Sr.), Leon Willis (6-0, 176, Sr.) and Teddrick Polk (5-7, 152, Fr.) providing support from the DSU secondary.

Kicker Blake Koenigsberger (5-9, 165, Soph.) returns as the only specialty starter with competition to be provided by All-Star junior college transfers Jeff Walls (5-10, 180, Jr.) and Billy Dorgan (5-9, 185, Jr.).

The Statesmen open their ten-game 1999 campaign with a 7 P.M. Thursday night game versus Division I-AA Sam Houston at Huntsville, Texas.

GSC Adds Two Schools

Following an extended study, Harding University (Searcy, AR) and Ouachita Baptist University (Arkadelphia, AR) have become members of the Gulf South Conference.

The addition of the two schools makes the GSC the largest NCAA Division II in the nation with 18 participating members.

"It's a good, highly competitive league and it's a natural fit geographically for us," said OBU President Andrew Westmoreland. For Harding President David Burks, the affiliation ends years of looking for the "right" conference relationship. "We are delighted to join with our colleagues in Arkansas and the rest of the GSC. This is something we really wanted."

While the scheduling for most sports should be completed in the near future, the scheduling among football-playing schools will require some creativity since there are now 12 members participating.

Runyan Named Voice of DSU Sports

Dr. Jim Jordan, Director of Athletics, has announced that John Runyan, an employee of Delta Radio, Inc., will serve as the "voice" of Statesmen and Lady Statesmen athletics for the 1999-2000 season. A Crossett, Arkansas native and graduate of Arkansas State, he comes to Delta Radio after stints in Russellville, Little Rock and Jonesboro, Arkansas.

Runyan's first DSU broadcast will be on Sept. 2, when the Delta State football team opens the 1999 season in Huntsville, Texas at Sam Houston State University.

Aquatics & Fitness Center Under Construction

Ground-breaking ceremonies for DSU's new Aquatic & Fitness Addition to the Forest E. Wyatt Physical Education Building was held on May 13. Funding for the $6.2 million project was provided by the Mississippi Legislature during its 1998 and 1999 sessions.

"This facility not only will meet the needs of our students, faculty, staff and the local and area communities, but it will also allow Delta State to serve as host to major NCAA post-season swimming and diving events," said Dr. Milton Wilder, chairman of the HPER Department.

The scheduled completion date for the new center is October 2000.

Winter-Spring Sports Summary For 1999

by Fred Singleton, DSU Sports Information Director

Men's Basketball - The Statesmen finished the 1998-99 campaign with a 22-7 record and a 9-3 mark in the GSC West Division. Coach Steve Rives' squad gained momentum down the stretch that propelled the Statesmen to an unprecedented third straight GSC Tournament Final.

Women's Basketball - With a squad that had only two seniors, Coach Lloyd Clark's Lady Statesmen not only claimed the GSC West Division title but also won its ninth GSC Tournament Championship with a 63-59 win over eventual NCAA Division II Finalist Arkansas Tech. After an 88-69 win over Clark-Atlanta in the opening round of the NCAA South Regional, DSU fell to Fort Valley in the Semifinals to finish the 1998-99 season with a 26-5 overall record and a 12-2 GSC West Division mark.

Baseball - The Statesmen finished the 1999 season with a 41-12 overall record and won their fifth straight GSC West Division title with an 11-3 division mark. After finishing as the runner-up to North Alabama in the 1999 GSC Tournament Championship game, the Statesmen earned its first NCAA South Central Regional berth under current head coach Mike Kinnison.

Women's Softball - The Lady Statesmen posted a 31-18 overall record and a 14-6 mark in the GSC West Division under first-year head coach David Kuhn. A bid for a fourth straight GSC West Division title came up short as a scheduled doubleheader with eventual West Division winner MUW was rained out.

Men's Tennis - Coach Ray Bridges' squad finished the 1999 season with a 12-7 overall record, winning the GSC West Division and earning a berth in the NCAA South Region in Jacksonville, FL. DSU defeated Alabama-Huntsville in the opening round of the GSC Tournament on their way to a fourth place finish.

Women's Tennis - Coach Asa Atkinson's Lady Statesmen finished the season with an 11-3 overall record, winning the GSC West Division and earning a berth in the NCAA South Central Region in Pensacola, FL. DSU defeated Lincoln Memorial and MUW on its way to a third place finish in the GSC Tournament.

Men's Golf - Delta State capped a highly competitive season as the Statesmen shot a final round of 308 to finish tied for fourth place with Arkansas Tech at the 1999 GSC Tournament in Hot Springs, AR. Coach Sam Dunning's squad had a three-day total of 947. All-GSC Alan McAfee shot a 234 to finish 14th on the individual leader board.

Men's & Women's Swimming and Diving - The men and women's swimming and diving teams enjoyed another highly successful season as both teams captured the New South Intercollegiate Swim League titles with Coach Ronnie Mayers being named the NSISL Women's "Coach of the Year." For Mayers it was his second straight "Coach of the Year" honor, having earned men's "Coach of the Year" in 1998 and for the men it was their second straight league title.

DSU Men's Athletic Teams #1 In GSC

1998-99 proved a banner year for DSU athletics as Delta State captured the Gulf South Conference Men's All-Sports Trophy for the first time in school history. The coveted trophy was presented to school officials at the Conference's annual banquet, June 18, in Point Clear, Alabama.

Recording 51 points in the competition to runner-up North Alabama (45.5), the Statesmen captured a share of their first-ever GSC Football Championship, reached the Finals of the GSC Basketball and Baseball Tournaments and finished fourth at both the Conference Golf and Tennis Championships.

West Florida repeated as the Women's All-Sport Trophy winner with the Lady Statesmen recording a fourth place finish among the conference's 13 teams.

DSU Coaches Hall Of Fame To Induct Three

Bill Marchant, director of the Delta State Athletic Alumni Association, has announced that W.S. Donald, Richard Harris and Leland Young have been voted into the DSU Alumni Coaches Hall of Fame.

Donald coached football, basketball and track at Horn Lake (MS) and Memphis (TN) Trezevant and Wooddale High Schools from 1954-97. Harris coached basketball for 37 years at St. Martin, Hickory, Clarke College, Decatur, Newton County and Newton Academy. Young, a 31-year veteran coached football and track at Rosedale, Delta State and Bayou Academy.

Induction ceremonies will be held on September 11 at halftime of the Delta State-Arkansas Tech football game with a reception honoring the inductees prior to the game at the DSU Alumni-Foundation House.

Thompson Moves On

DSU men's assistant Robert Thompson is the new head men's basketball coach at Arkansas Tech University in Russellville, Arkansas. Thompson, who recently named former DSU player Brad Bunch to his staff at Tech, will lead the "Wonder Boys" against the Statesmen in GSC West Division action this coming season.

DSU Triathlon Set For September 11.

The eighth annual Swimming and Diving Triathlon, featuring a 500-yard swim, a 12-mile bicycle ride and a 3.5-mile run, is scheduled for September 11, 1999, at the Walker Natatorium on the campus of Delta State.

All entries must be received by September 8, and the registration will be limited to the first 100 entries. For more information, contact Race Director Ronnie Mayers at 846-4730 or 846-1373.

Sports Update

Long-Time Assistant Leaves Program

After spending the past eight years as the DSU women's assistant basketball coach, Bernadette McDonald is leaving to take the reins as the new women's head coach at Mississippi Delta Community College.

A former standout player at Delta State, McDonald was a part of the three national championship teams while a coach and graduate assistant at DSU. She also served as the senior women's athletic administrator and physical education instructor at Delta State.

"We're going to miss Bernadette very much," said head coach Lloyd Clark. "but she's ready to head her own program and is the type person to turn their (MDCC) program around."

Bernadette McDonald

Conner Returns To DSU

DSU men's basketball coach Steve Rives is looking forward to having a familiar face on the sidelines this season as Jason Conner, A DSU graduate assistant from 1987 to 1990, returns to the Statesmen program as Rives' assistant.

Since Conner's departure he has had coaching stops at Texas-El Paso, Belhaven, Houston and South Alabama with the four-year stint at Belhaven being as head coach. "There's no question about Jason's ability as both a coach and a recruiter. He's helped turn around programs everywhere he's been," said Rives.

Conner, a native of Lakeland, Fla., holds a degree in history from Belhaven and a Master of Education from Delta State. In addition to his basketball duties, he will serve as an instructor in the HPER Department.

DSU Student-Athlete Dies In Effort To Save Others

John Weems

John Weems, a senior to be at Delta State and a member of the DSU tennis team, died June 18 in a swimming accident while serving as a BSU summer missionary. Weems, 21, died after being caught in an undertow on a beach on Mexico's southern coast.

"John trying to go back and save lives speaks about the type of person he was," Delta State's Baptist Student director Bill Kilpatrick said. "He knew he needed to do that. That speaks well of his personal character and his faith in Christ."

Weems, a first-year transfer from Kilgore (TX) Community College, recently completed a most successful year at Delta State, being named to the All-Gulf South Conference first team and receiving the Most Valuable Statesman award. "John's death has had a tremendous effect upon this community," said his coach, Ray Bridges. "He was a very popular young man who touched a lot of lives."

DSU Baseball Adds Full-Time Assistant

Christian Ostrander, a former player and graduate assistant for the past three years, has been hired as a full-time assistant with the DSU baseball program. In announcing the addition, head baseball coach Mike Kinnison stated that Ostrander will maintain his duties as pitching coach and become more involved in the recruiting process.

Christian Ostrander

"I can't say how excited I am," related Ostrander. "Delta State is a special place and this is a special program. I am honored that Coach Kinnison has asked me to stay."

1999 DSU Sports Hall of Fame Inductees Named

B. Hal Buchanan, Sr.

B. Hal Buchanan, Sr., 81, a former dean of education at Delta State, died of heart failure July 7 at North Miss. Medical Center in Tupelo. A Rankin County native, he was a graduate of Mississippi State. He received his master's degree from the University of Mississippi and doctorate from MSU. A World War II veteran, he was a member of Calvary Baptist Church where he was deacon and Sunday school member. He served on the Mississippi Children's Home Society Board and went on missions as an educational liaison to Thailand.

John Charles Yurkow

John Charles Yurkow, 46, a retired CPA and Delta State instructor, died April 9 of heart failure at his home. He was a graduate of Delta State with a B.A. and an M.B.A. in accounting. A past president of the Cleveland Noon Lions Club and the DSU Booster Club, he was an avid supporter of DSU athletics. He was also a member of the board of directors for the Gibson-Yurkow Scholarship Fund and a member of Covenant Presbyterian Church.

Rabbi Moses M. Landau

Rabbi Moses M. Landau, 92, a retired DSU professor, died of a stroke May 18 at the Leiberman Home in Stokie, Illinois. A Vienna native, he came to the U.S. in 1938. Landau served as rabbi for the Adath Israel Congregation in Cleveland from 1957 until April of 1999. In 1977 he retired from Delta State as professor of German and World Literature.

Orville F. White, Sr.

Orville F. White, Sr., 87, a retired Delta State professor, died June 22 of heart failure at Bolivar Medical Center. He received a masters degree in English from the Univ. of Ark. and a Ph.D. from the Univ. of North Carolina. He served as head of the English Department at Ark. State Univ. prior to coming to Delta State where he headed the Languages and Literature Department for 14 years.

Former QB Mark Hudspeth ('92), (left) DSU football offensive coordinator and Robert "Tank" Rush, equipment manager at the U.S. Air Force Academy, talk over old times with "Coach" Skelton.

Rush, a 1993 graduate, was the equipment manager for the Statesmen football program during Skelton's five-year tenure as the University's head coach.
